

Hi,

I think that the Indiana's Telephone Privacy law is a good one and it should not be diminished. I am a patient man but I can say that I'm happier now than I was before regarding unwanted telemarketing calls. I got a lot of them prior to the Telephone Privacy law and now I get none. I understand that those guys are only doing their job, but I think there must be other ways to do that.